See announcement below and supporting information:

Dear Antoinette – How are you?

Thank you for your interest in the OCLC Global Council and for standing for election as a Delegate to represent the Americas Regional Council (ARC) on Global Council.

The election has closed, and the results have been tallied. This letter is to advise you that, as a result of the election, you have been selected as a Delegate to the Global Council for the term beginning 1 July 2016 and ending 30 June 2019. I ask that you keep this information confidential until the formal announcement of the results is made at the OCLC Global Council Meeting on 13 April 2016. We will issue a press release after this announcement.

As a Delegate, you will begin to receive communications from the OCLC Member Relations Team, and you will be added to the Global Council listserv (GC-L@oclc.org). You will be invited to attend the Global Council Meeting scheduled for 14-16 November 2016 in Dublin, Ohio, USA and for subsequent Global Council meetings in 2017, 2018 and 2019.

Please add these meeting dates to your schedule. OCLC will assist you in arranging and paying for your travel and accommodations to attend these meetings. If, for any reason, you are unable to attend a meeting, kindly advise either Rob Favini (favinir@oclc.org) or me as soon as possible so that an Alternate Delegate may be invited to attend in your place.

There will be an orientation session for new Delegates in the coming months. Please watch for details.

Again, congratulations, and thank you for your willingness to share your strengths and talents in a leadership role within the OCLC Cooperative!

Kind regards –

Meryl and the OCLC Member Relations Team

Member-driven, member-governed

A key benefit of membership is the opportunity to participate in OCLC's governance. Member libraries have a voice through their elected representatives and are encouraged to actively contribute to member activities including elections, regional meetings, member forums, advisory groups and user communities. We have greater impact when we collaborate as OCLC. When we come together as a network, we can address shared opportunities and challenges at scale. Together we make breakthroughs possible.
